Some Employees May Be Dismissed

County Health Board Ponders Money Woes

LISBON — An expected $10,200 deficit in the County Health Department operating fund next year may result in the dismissal of some employees, it was brought out at a meeting of the County Board of Health at the Courthouse Monday night.

The anticipated revenue during the year will total $43,860, but the budget calls for expenditures of $54,070, it was revealed.

The deficit was assured by the defeat of the two-tenth mill levy which the board, anticipating a shortage of funds, had placed on the November ballots.

One nurse, Mrs. Mary Alice Rumberger of Lisbon, has already resigned, it was announced. The board accepted her resignation of the $3,300 a year post.

She has taken a job as county tuberculosis nurse.

Other personnel includes a sanitarian hired by the board at the beginning of 1958 at a salary of $7,000; two plumbing inspectors, $4,500 each; a clerk, $2,700; and another nurse.

The board deferred action until all members are present. Fred Johnson of Summitville, vice president, was absent from last night's meeting.

A temporary budget was passed pending final approval of the board at its Jan. 19 meeting.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, reported on a visit from state and Mahoning County plumbing officials, in regard to plumbing in the two counties.

President Howard Cole presided at last night's meeting.

O. C. Hoover Gets Commission Okay For Postmastership

The U. S. Civil Service Commission announced today that Orvil C. Hoover, acting postmaster, is the only applicant eligible for appointment as Salem postmaster.

Eight local men, including six postal workers, took the examination for the $6,390 a year job last fall.

The Civil Service Commission's action assures Mr. Hoover presidential nomination for the post. The nomination must be confirmed by the Senate.

The vacancy here was caused by the death Nov. 11, 1957, of Postmaster L. D. Beardmore who was appointed to the position Feb. 1, 1950 following the death of his brother, A. Earl Beardmore.

Mr. Hoover was made acting postmaster under a provisional appointment April 18.

Hoover, who retired March 31, as manager of the Salem office of the Home Savings & Loan Association of Youngstown after serving in that capacity 15 years, gave up his job as city treasurer to accept the provisional postmaster appointment. He held the city job, a parttime position, 23 years.

France Against English Proposal For Free Trade

British Competition In Common Market Unwanted by French

PARIS (AP)—France appeared today to be backed into a tight corner in her stubborn fight against the British plan to turn Western Europe into a free trade area.

France wants to keep British competition out of the Common Market, which goes into operation Jan. 1 with France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg as members.

Britain threatened a trade war Monday if the Common Market is not expanded to include the 11 other West European nations of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation.

The possibility of a trade war apparently cost France the full support of her Common Market partners.

After nearly 14 hours of negotiations, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville admitted in substance, "France is isolated."

Blood Program Here Assured

140 Pints Collected, 15 In Excess of Goal

A total of 140 pints of blood, collected yesterday when the Cleveland Regional Bloodmobile made its last visit of the year here in the Methodist Church, insured Salem area residents of a free blood program for another year.

The program had been in danger of being canceled because the quota of 125 pints had failed to be reached at several visits.

Through the combined efforts of recruiters and volunteers, free blood will still be available to the sick and injured, with the only cost being the fee charged by the hospitals for administering the blood, Miss Hazel Linn, executive director of the local Red Cross Chapter, explained.

Albert Hanna, chairman of the Red Cross Board, announced that the next visit of the blood mobile here will be Feb. 12. He said that William Padgett, general chairman of the blood program, and Mrs. Harold Wykoff, recruitment chairman, who have both served for the past year, have resigned their posts.

Mrs. Wykoff reported that in addition to calls made by the regular recruitment workers, the Jaycees canvassed the city yesterday from noon until 5 p. m. with George Ehrhart and Donald De-Jane manning the sound system in the auto. This service, arranged by Ford Joseph Jr., chairman of the Jaycee blood program com-

PTA Gives $650 to Fourth Street School

A check for $650 to be used for establishment of a library at the Fourth Street School, was presented to Miss Edith Forbes, the school principal, when the Parent-Teachers Association met Monday night at the school.

The money represented profit from the PTA's annual school fair held last month. The actual presentation was made by Mrs. Warren Annis, president.

A talk by Dr. Chester Bartram, assistant professor of education at Mount Union College, and a concert by the Girls Chorus of the Senior High School highlighted the PTA meeting.

Dr. Bartram's talk concerned the teaching of arithmetic to elementary pupils and included a demonstration of visual aids.

F. Edwin Miller directed the chorus in a selection of Christmas numbers.

Walker Erven of the Salem China Co. gave a humorous talk. Mrs. Charles Corbett was program chairman.

Soviet Premier Hits Molotov for Farm Failures

Khrushchev Blames 'Antiparty Group' At Committee Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has hurled a bitter new attack at the Malenkov-Molotov 'antiparty group,' blaming it for major shortcomings in Soviet agriculture.

Khrushchev's new blast, made at a meeting Monday of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee, came after a new press campaign against the five high officials Khrushchev toppled from power in the Kremlin shake-up in July 1957.

Accounts of the speech today in Tass, the Soviet news agency, gave no indication of whether further measures would be taken against the five men—ex-Premiers Georgi Malenkov and Nicolai Bulganin, former Foreign Ministers V. M. Molotov and Dimitri Shepilov and former economic czar Lazar Kaganovich. All have been banished to obscure posts in the Soviet Union.

Nor was there any mention of Gen. Ivan Serov, who was removed last week from his key post as chief of state security, the Soviet Union's top police official. Serov's future has not been announced, but so far he has not been linked with the antiparty group.

Khrushchev claimed Malenkov, Molotov and their disgraced associates:

1. 'Tried to stifle the patriotic movement for catching up with the United States in per capita production of livestock produce.'

2. Opposed the virgin lands project, a pet Khrushchev scheme which he boasted had proved the key factor in bringing a record grain production of 140 million tons this year.

Two Persons in Ohio Are Victims of Cold

By The Associated Press

Death reached with icy fingers for the lives of at least two Ohioans early this week, bringing a grim reminder of the unrelenting nature of zero temperatures.

In New Bloomington near Marion, 71-year-old Clarence V. Young collapsed from a stroke on the front porch of his home Sunday and froze to death. And in Columbus, doctors at University Hospital are battling to save the life of Charles E. Drossel, 71, found semi-conscious at 5:15 a. m. Monday on a city sidewalk.

The elderly man had been staying with relatives in Columbus and apparently had been outside since leaving a lodge meeting. His body temperature when he was found was 80 degrees, 18.6 below normal. He is in critical condition.

Temperatures may ease up slightly during the next few days, but the over-all outlook is for continued below-normal readings, the Weather Bureau said.

Maggianetti Quits Post in East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) —The surprise resignation of Safety Service Director Dan Maggianetti, effective Jan. 12, was announced by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence at City Council meeting Monday night. No successor was mentioned.

Maggianetti gave no reason for his resignation and announced no plans. He took office here last Jan. 12.

Prior to Maggianetti's appointment, the post of safety service director paid $4,700 a year. However, Maggianetti was paid $9,000, with the mayor contributing his salary of $2,450 and Council voting funds to make up the difference.

The funds approved by Council were based on the city's income tax of eight-tenths of 1 per cent enacted by Council last June. The tax was repealed by the voters Nov. 4.

Teen-ager Admits Five Murders In California

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Thomas Pendergast stared at the lanky, pimply-faced youth who had just confessed slaying Pendergast's wife and four children.

"Why did you do it?" he screamed. "They were all I had in the world."

Young Carl Eder slumped in his chair at the police station. His mouth opened and shut several times but no sound came out. Finally he blurted: "I ... I didn't want to, Tom."

The meeting between Pendergast and the 16-year-old runaway New York youth he had befriended came Monday night after Eder had been captured in a beach community a few miles north of San Diego.

Looking Since Friday

Police had been looking for him since Friday when the bodies of Mrs. Lois Pendergast, 7, and her four children were found in their home. The mother had been shot, the children slashed and stabbed with a knife.

The 6-foot-3 teen-ager, whose description had been widely broadcast, was recognized by a resident of Mission Beach and arrested by an off-duty policeman and a lifeguard. After a brief show of defiance the boy started crying and admitted he was Eder and that he had killed Mrs. Pendergast and the children.

"I just flipped," his captors quoted him as saying.

At the San Diego police station, officers said they got a detailed confession from the youth Pendergast picked up as a hitchhiker six weeks ago and took into his home because he felt sorry for him.

They said Eder told them he became angry because one of the High-Level Talks With Russians Are Possibility

Sec. Dulles Claims We Can Proceed 'With Confidence'

PARIS (AP) — The foreign ministers of the Atlantic Pact countries today flatly rejected Russian pressure on Berlin but held out the possibility of high-level talks with the Soviet Union on East-West problems.

The Western leaders agreed, however, that such talks could not be successful under the threats of any Soviet ultimatum on West Berlin.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles told his colleagues in the North Atlantic Council that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will not risk war over Berlin.

Proceed With Confidence

"Therefore we can proceed with confidence," Dulles asserted. He added:

"We must not give an appearance of success to a bold and reckless move. In this respect he (Khrushchev) is like Hitler — if we give him an inch, he will take a mile."

The ministers also agreed to advise the Russians that the big Western Powers are ready to negotiate at a high level for a general settlement of the problems of Europe.

These would include reunification of Germany with Berlin as its capital, European security measures and disarmament questions a Norwegian diplomat reported.

A NATO spokesman said the majority of the 15 foreign ministers agreed with Dulles position. He described the broad lines in this way:

Proposal Unaccepted

"Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's proposals are unacceptable. The West must stand firm and cannot tolerate the unilateral violation of international agreements. The West is agreed that it is always ready for discussions on the reunification of Germany."

The ministers decided there would be further consultation by the Big Three after the NATO

Council Will Hear Road Safety Official

Andrew Pavlik of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety will present a detailed analysis of the city's traffic control and safety activities to City Council at its regular meeting in City Hall at 7:30 p. m. today.

The analysis prepared by the National Safety Council on the basis of a report made by several city government and civic agencies, incorporates viewpoints of leading national authorities in the traffic and safety control field.

Agencies whose recommendations are applied to the Salem report are the American Bar Association, International Association of Chiefs of Police, Institute of Traffic Engineers, National Committee on Uniform Traffic Laws and Ordinances, and a joint committee of several leading educational associations.

The analysis will compare Salem's reported safety activity with proven accident prevention techniques wherever used in the nation, and will offer specific recommendations for improvement where needed.

Mayor Smith said all public officials with traffic responsibilities will attend the meeting and urged maximum attendance by private citizens, civic club safety committees and the like.

Passage Necessary to Receive State Grant

Beaver School Officials Urge $220,000 Bond Issue Okay

As a means of improving educational facilities in the Beaver Local School District, the Board of Education has scheduled a special vote on a $220,000 bond issue Dec. 30.

George M. Van Horne, executive head, urged voters in the district to take advantage of the opportunity of canceling the negative vote Nov. 4 which defeated the $209,000 combined bond issue-levy.

He stressed that passage of the bond issue is vital if district children are to be afforded adequate educational housing and equipment.

Looking back on the history of Beaver Local, Mr. Van Horne points out that construction of a modern type school building in Beaver Local started with the passage of a $305,000 bond issue in November of 1948.

This bond issue provided an eight-room school at Calcutta, and a four room school at Rogers, Elkton and West Point. By September of 1951, 20 modern class rooms to house 1,250 elementary pupils were finished, he said.

Educated in Frame Buildings

Yet, half of the school population was being educated in sub-standard frame buildings. Elementary school attendance figures continued to spiral. No more classrooms were added, and the frame building at Rogers, which was destroyed by fire, was not replaced.

In 1954 Beaver Local residents approved a $429,000 bond issue. This increased the school district's bonded indebtedness to eight per cent which was the maximum level allowed a school district by the state of Ohio, Mr. Van Horne stated.

Then in 1955 the state legislature raised the maximum bonded indebtedness level for school districts to nine per cent of their total valuation figure which placed Beaver Local below the requirements which had been established governing the distribution of state building aid to schools.

Bond Issue Approved
A $113,000 bond issue approved in 1955 placed the district at the nine per cent bonded indebtedness level and furnished funds needed to complete the high school, Mr. Van Horne said.

Also in 1955, the voters of Ohio made available a $150,000,000 tax issue of which seven million dollars was marked for Ohio public schools which met the necessary requirements.

Beaver Local met the requirements, and in 1957 received the largest single grant for public school construction which up to that time had been made—$576,000. This amount need not be repaid by residents of Beaver Local, he stated.

This money provided a badly needed four room primary unit at Calcutta School, and a new upper grade elementary building.

This year another $10,000,000 of school building money was made available by the state, and Beaver Local was temporarily apportioned a grant of $326,000.

Certain Obligations Attached

However, certain obligations were attached to this: first, the school district had to stand at the nine per cent bonded indebtedness level; and second, had to agree to pay to the state for a 23-year period the returns on a half-mill levy each year, the executive had said.

Board members say that to return to nine per cent bonded indebtedness would mean a bond issue of $209,000 — 1.6 mills; and with the half-mill levy a total millage of 2.1 which would provide about $335,000 for the construction of classroom facilities.

Mr. Van Horne said that when the combined bond issue-levy was turned down Nov. 4, the Beaver Local district was left in this situation: one, a growing student body which will total 2,448 pupils by September of 1962; two, the necessity of returning to old wooden buildings by next fall; three, the needless loss of $326,000 in state aid; four, the possibility of losing the advanced academic standing which the district now enjoys for the first time in its history.

Good Until 1959

The state grant to Beaver Local is good until Jan. 6, 1959. The board of education reminds voters that from the bond issues approved in 1948, 1954, and 1955 totaling $847,000, the district received a modern eight-room building at Calcutta, four room buildings at Rogers, Elkton, and West Point, a new high school building, a four-room addition at Calcutta and the 21-room elementary building just recently completed.

It is doubtful, board members say, if this building record can be, or has been, duplicated anywhere else in the state of Ohio at such low cost to the people of the district.

The board also wishes to remind voters that the bond request, which had to be raised to $220,000 from the original $209,000, does not increase the millage above that which was asked for in the November issue.

That millage is still 1.6 for the bond issue and one-half for the state payments. The bond issue will run for 22 years; the levy, still as before, for 23 years.

The total building fund, which would be made available by a positive vote on Dec. 30, will have been increased from $335,000 to $546,000.

Hays Claims Africa Pivot in Cold War

CLEVELAND (AP)—Africa is a pivotal area in the cold war with Russia, says Rep. Wayne L. Hays. That was a major point in the 48-year-old Democratic congressman's talk Monday night before the Cleveland Council on World Affairs.

"We don't have a coherent policy toward Africa. It's an exercise in futility to try to send highly technical weapons to nations like Ethiopia," said the speaker.

Russia is interested in the Middle East mainly as a route to Africa, he asserted, declaring that their representatives get down and work with the people.

Hays said America must do the same. "We are going to have to train people to get down to the grass roots for technical assistance. It's going to take sacrifice and money and work," he said. "Technical assistance, not weapons, is the key to success in foreign aid," said Hays.

Hays, who lives in Flushing, Ohio, represents the 8th District and is a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Court Strikes Down Liquor Control Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's unreasonable to require an applicant for a beer and wine permit to own or operate a restaurant at the time for application, say three appellate court judges.

The three, sitting here on assignment for the 10th District Court of Appeals, upheld Common Pleas Court in striking down the State Liquor Control Board rule Monday.

The decision was for Eleanor Schott of Youngstown, doing business as the Duke's Restaurant. She was employed there and working out details to buy the restaurant when she applied for permits to sell 3.2 beer by glass and high power beer and wine.

Asserting that there is no statutory requirement that the applicant must be the owner and operator of a restaurant at the time of application, the court said it "was not the legislative intent to limit the right to file applications only to the actual owners or operators... at the time of filing."

The court noted, however, that a permit must be issued to the owner or operator. Action of the State Liquor Control Board and State Liquor Department in rejecting applications because the applicant is not owner or operator of a restaurant at the time is unreasonable, the court held.

Boy Scouts to Hold 'Polar Bear' Camp

A Boy Scout "Paul Bunyon polar bear camp" will be held Jan. 3 and 4 at Camp McKinley.

The scouts attending will be shown how comfortable winter camping can be with proper equipment. Central feeding is planned.

Protestant church services will be held Sunday at the camp, and Catholic boys will go to Mass at St. George's Church in Lisbon.

Camping will begin at noon Saturday and end after the noon meal on Sunday, McDaniel said.

East Liverpool Youth Held on Morals Count

LISBON — A 15-year-old East Liverpool youth will be sent to the juvenile diagnostic center at Columbus, Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin reported Monday.

The youth admitted to police that he committed an indecent assault on a 17-year-old East Liverpool girl Wednesday night.

He had been in juvenile court about a year ago for indecent exposure, Judge Tobin said.

Sentencing will be deferred until the report from the diagnostic center is received.

A 17-year-old Wellsville RD youth was sentenced to 90 days in the detention room at the county jail on a morals charge involving a 19-year-old Wellsville girl.

Man Gets Penitentiary Term on Morals Counts

LISBON — Aubrey Taylor, 49, of Franklin Square was sentenced on Monday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard to one to 20 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary for sodomy and one to 10 years for incest. He must serve the terms consecutively.

Indicted by the September Grand Jury he pleaded guilty and was sent to Lima State Hospital for a 60-day period of observation. He was found sane and returned from Lima Nov. 5.

Pacifist Pastor Raises Comment

Minister Convicted Of Ignoring Summons

CINCINNATI (AP)—A war-hating pacifist clergyman who pitted his conscience against federal court—and lost — has become a controversial figure among Episcopal churchmen here.

The Rev. M. F. Arnold in a sermon Sunday took both defendant and the U. S. District Court judge to task for their courtroom actions.

The Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin was convicted last Friday on a charge of ignoring a summons to confer on his income taxes.

And before setting a six month prison term and $250 fine on the charge, Judge John H. Druffel scored the pacifist minister and pacifists in general. He said the pastor is associated with the Fellowship of Reconciliation which has "overwhelming Soviet sympathies."

The judge said Monday the U.S. Supreme Court ruled 11 years ago that a judge has authority to search the background of a defendant.

He said, "It would be idle to sentence someone without saying why you're doing it."

The Rev. Mr. Arnold said the judge's courtroom statement was a "viciously false accusation by deliberate statement and by innuendo."

The Episcopal minister said the Fellowship of Reconciliation is a pacifist group of the Christian church and is headed by an Episcopal bishop.

As for the defendant, the pastor said he "is a sincere man of strong principle who had literally and unswervingly taken the law into his own hands and sought to witness to a belief that was evil by refusing to pay income tax."

He said the Rev. Mr. McCrackin "foolishly refused to comply with the government's request to stand up and testify as a true pacifist would have but chose instead to make himself a martyr."

He added he thinks the sentence was just and deserved. Court-appointed lawyers for the Rev. McCrackin have not indicated whether they will appeal the conviction.

Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Esteban falls through a trap door into the bedroom of a mole. Esteban tells the mole about the professor's plan to kill all the fairies and asks for help. The mole tells him the Snuke will take him to Santa Land where he can get help.

Chapter 11

A TRIP UNDERGROUND

"Don't you agree," asked the mole, "that the Snuke can get you to Santa Land?"

"Pardon me," faltered Esteban, "but I never heard of the Snuke."

"Good gracious! Don't ever let him hear you didn't know who he was. He is very sensitive."

"Yes, sir," said Esteban. "But who is he?"

"He is my cousin. He lives in the sea instead of on land and where I dig through earth he digs through ice. So you can see he is the very one who can get through all that ice in Santa Land."

"Wonderful!" cried Esteban. Then his face fell. "But, how will I find the Snuke?"

"That's easy," replied the mole. "I will take you to him. We have wonderful roads. I'm a road engineer, you know, and my brothers and I have built fine roads that circle under this whole land."

"Come with me now. We'll take this short cut I just made from the main road."

WITH THAT HE snatched up his brief case, put on his top hat and disappeared through the hole in the wall. Esteban stared at the hole in dismay. Squeezing himself as small as he could he would never be able to get through.

After a moment the mole reappeared. "Come on!" He beckoned impatiently.

"But I'm too big!" stammered Esteban.

The mole clicked his tongue in exasperation. "Tch, tch! I forgot about that. Well, never mind. I'll get help and we'll make the roads larger."

He disappeared and presently Esteban heard the familiar scraping sound. But this time it sounded as though a whole army was scraping.

Suddenly the whole side of the room did break open and the mole bounced in and said, "Bring the lamp and come along."

Esteban snatched the tiny lamp from the table and crawled into the large hole. Ahead of him he could see a thousand moles digging furiously to enlarge the tiny roads.

"I will take you to the Snuke," said the friendly mole.

They worked so fast it was all Esteban could do to keep up with them. Lying on his stomach he held the lantern in one hand and pushed himself along with the other.

Presently the moles stopped their work.

"Are we there?" asked Esteban eagerly.

"Gracious, no!" said his friend. "We are stopping to eat. Moles eat an enormous lot, you know. We have to in order to keep up our strength. Here, have a snack."

He opened his brief case and took out a triple-decker caterpillar sandwich. When Esteban refused, the mole gobbled up the sandwich himself while up ahead the other moles lunched.

WHEN THE MEAL was over the work began anew. Three more times the moles stopped to eat, but when they stopped the fourth time the fat little mole said "Here we are, we have reached the sea."

Now the moles tunneled upward surface and daylight flooded the hole.

The little fat mole popped out of the hole with Esteban behind him. They found themselves on the edge of a vast sea and lying on the beach was the strangest looking creature ever seen on land or sea.

"What-what is that?" quavered Esteban.

"A Snuke," replied the mole. "That is my cousin, the Snuke."

The Journey to Jesus

Three 'Kings' Set Out to Trace Star

EDITOR'S NOTE: The "Three Kings of the Orient" were in fact kings only of knowledge — professional scholars more advanced than any others in their age. But their decision to search for a Divine King was not welcomed by all their learned colleagues. Here's a description of their odyssey, second of five articles on the Magi's Journey to Jesus.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

The caravan stood in readiness. It had taken nearly three months to prepare for the 1,200-mile journey. Shouts of leather-skirted cavalry officers mingled with the bawl of animals as supplies were loaded.

Somewhere . . . somewhere in Judea . . . was the destination.

The chief camoleer rushed about, yelling instructions and gesturing violently, as sweating slaves hoisted rope crates and grain bags to the backs of kneeling freight beasts. Dust swirled in the bright Persian sunlight.

Blankets, tents, foodstuffs, water casks and other necessities along with chests of rare treasures, were stowed on the wooden pack saddles, divided equally by weight on either side, and bound to the uprights.

Since it would be a rigorous trip, only about 400 pounds of cargo, two-thirds the usual maximum, was placed on each camel. A crowd of jostling townspeople looked on, women veiled in their chadors; dark, hirsute men with laughing eyes.

"A fool's expedition! Those gray-beards chase the wind."

Three Selected

Behind a brick wall, inside the palace of the royal Magian Council, a circle of white-gowned men sat around a fire, staring silently into its leaping flames.

Among them were the three (the number and their identifications are matters of divergent ancient accounts, but the most common listing is used here) who had determined to track the genesis of a star.

They were Melchior, pale, old-white-bearded; Gaspar, a tall ruddy young priest, and a black-skinned Balthasar, of medium age and stature, whose ancestors may have come to Persia in the days when its empire stretched to Ethiopia.

Not all their fellow Magi condoned this quest to honor a hypothetical "Blessed One" of alien birth. Nor would they, as the ensuing years proved, accept its validity. It smacked of national disloyalty.

But the tenacity of High Magus Melchior and his supporters had overcome this narrow view. The strange mission was decreed.

Seeking Divine guidance, the counsellors sat now to "contemplate the beams of the fire with a most pious mind." So their prophet Zarathustra, had taught. So Moses heard God on fiery Sinai and in a burning bush.

Finally, the group rose and filed out of the altar room. After farewell embraces, the three travelers donned their turbans and fur-trimmed cloaks, strode out to the waiting train and mounted their dromedaries.

Quest Is Begun

"Khikhi!" The guttural command burst from the camoleers. They jerked at the halters, and the beasts rose, growling, to their feet.

(Courtesy of the Pierpont Morgan Company)

THE JOURNEY TO JERUSALEM as pictured in John of Hildeheim's story of the Three Kings, published in 1484, shows them wearing crowns and approaching a walled town. Although they were known to the Middle Ages as "kings," the Magi actually were professional scholars, and "kings" only of knowledge.

The troop of mounted bowmen moved forward, the golden eagle of Persia fluttering on their banners.

The long trek was on.

In what city the match began is uncertain, but since the Magian priesthood served as one of the two councils to the king, it may have been at Hecatompylos, the northern capital "of a hundred gates."

Or, they may have left from the winter castle in Ctesiphon, with its stately domes and arcades, or from the former hundred-columned capitol at Persepolis, or the once-sovereign western city, Susa.

At any rate, despite some traditions saying each of them came from different places such as Media, India, Tharis, Arabia, Nubia and Ethiopia, this is flatly refuted by the Apostle Matthew who cites a single homeland — "their own country."

The overriding evidence is that this was Persia. In the original Greek, Matthew's gospel specifies the "Magi," who at the time of Jesus' birth and for centuries before were widely known as the learned priestly caste of Persia.

Matthew's original language also connotes "the Far East," and comparisons with other documents of the era show this was the common phrase used for the gi and their retinue of servants likely continued from there alone. A long, hard road of many months, lay ahead.

They tramped on. The saddles chafed their legs; the sun burned their skin and dust caked their eyes. The trip took six months to a year, other travel logs of the period indicate.

What kind of men were these who discerned a still small voice, and pursued it across a continent? The annals of that time tell of their knowledge and insight.

Philo, then an Alexandrian philosopher, said the Magi "behold the books of nature with more acute perception than usual." A contemporary Roman scholar, Apuleius, calls them "Divinely wise."

The Wisdom of Solomon says the Magi "seek for God being conversant with His works." The ancient Greek geographer, Herodotus, said that in all the world's ignorance was one shining exception — the truth-loving Magi.

Many other ancient scholars, Plutarch, Diogenes, Laertius, Pliney, all speak of the Magian acuity. They were official tutors of princes, Persian and Parthian alike.

Silent In Tents

But none of this explains the impetus that took them hundreds of miles, in broiling heat of day and chill of night, across the wide Syrian desert to Haleh or Tudmor, and on along the dusty highway to Damascus.

They camped at night in their black goat-hair tents, for it would not be fitting for regal personages to stoop in foreign hostels, with their dancers, boxers, knifethrowers and comedians balancing underfired infants atop poles.

The brilliant star they had seen "in the east" or more specifically translated "at the rising" apparently did not guide them, for Judea lay to the west beside the Mediterranean — not to the east.

Part of their secret may have been in their "Zendavesta," the hoary, mystical record of which only one of 21 books survive. Or it may have been in the labyrinthine, dateless processes of the past linking their stored-up lore and monotheistic beliefs with Judaism, and its yearning for the king of kings.

Whatever the explanation, the Magi's final decision was precipitated by a star, and as Ignatius described it in the First Century, it "shone in heaven beyond all

Early Diagnosis Helps Defeat Glaucoma

A writer asks whether glaucoma can be avoided and, if so, how. She also inquires how long a person with glaucoma can expect to retain vision. Another correspondent says that she has been told that blindness sets in from glaucoma after 18 years.

To the first question I shall have to reply that as yet there is no way known to avoid or prevent glaucoma. It is certainly not accurate to say that blindness sets in after 18 years. Blindness may never come at all, or may come much more rapidly. The important thing is to make a diagnosis of glaucoma early and begin proper treatment promptly.

GLAUCOMA is a condition in which the pressure inside the eyeball increases. Several different causes are recognized. The disease may develop rapidly or slowly.

The eye often appears inflamed and becomes hard to the touch. What happens is that there is a blockage to the free flow of eye fluids so that they gather in the eye instead of draining out normally. Unless treated early, all this leads to a progressive loss of vision.

The Committee on Glaucoma of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has adopted a number of rules for glaucoma sufferers. However, it is not enough to use general measures since there are medicines and other advice which can be given only after the eyes have been carefully examined.

One of the rules is to avoid as much as possible excitement, anger, worry, fear of depression other stars . . . Its light was inexpressible . . . Men's ignorance was taken away."

It was in that instant, in a flare of intuition and conviction, that the Magi had known heaven had touched earth. So they traveled on and on, south along the great trade route from Damascus, along the eastern shore of Galilee, across the Jericho ford over the Jordan, and to Jerusalem.

They arrived there, not with any map or preordained itinerary or directional signals, but with the burning force with which they started — the force that outruns all transient knowledge — their faith.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

I have no secrets. But I have the word of Russian specialists who are constantly talking to those from behind the Bolshoi border that Comrade Prime Minister Khrushchev has run the Soviets into a desperate trouble. There are eyewitness accounts of terrific industrial disruption, new forced labor battalions and the simple breakdown of vast quantities of intricate electronic equipment without which no modern state can compete with us.

These facts are as basic as water in the Volga and vodka in a Kremlin cellar. What is a guess, albeit a scientific guess, is the belief of men in Munich's intelligence centers that Tsvirich Khrushchev dumped the head of the secret police, Gen. Ivan Serov, because the party chief feared that the opposition would use the economic chaos as an excuse to depose him — and that Serov, the shifty, would be used against him.

There are just a handful of men who really know how to close Gen. Serov has been to the opposition "the Stalinists," the anti-party people, the men Khrushchev fears.

It was Serov, for example, who was aide to the missing Gen. Georgi Zhukov and kept his eye on an American general named Eisenhower back in the first days of Berlin's joint occupation.

IT WAS SERO who, as Stalin's special agent, rounded up Germany's atomic and rocket scientists before our intelligence services could get to them and save them, as Werner von Braun, now probing the heavens for us, was saved.

It was Serov who was the key counter intelligence operative in Stalin's personal secretariat. The little murderer (forgive my passion for understatement) worked directly for Stalin's most intimate aide and personal secretary Comrade A. N. Poskrebyshev.

Serov took orders from Georgi Malenkov, too.

In mob jargon, Serov was Stalin's "gun" or private "enforcer." Serov ran a small secret police unit which specialized in liquidating Stalin's marked men.

Until the other day, Serov personally controlled the virtually unknown political and police sectors of the Communist apparatus inside the army. He helped create this for Stalin — who handed him killer assignments known only to the two of them.

Serov knew, or knows, more about Comrad K. than Khrushchev does and he was the only with enough personal power to do anything to the boss.

THOSE DETAILEDLY informed men at Munich's listening posts advise us to take these facts and view them against the background of the well-camouflaged industrial chaos inside Russia today.

Add to this the fact that Khrushchev had to face the Soviet Communist party's 21st Congress, with its great concentration of delegates. What could he tell his comrades?

He can rattle the timid in the U.S. with a series of intimate revelations in cozy conversations. But his party delegates knew of the new Communist labor brigades in huge factories. These are forced labor units.

As recently as Nov. 25, there were reports in Moscow that these slave labor battalions numbered "millions of people" — and that is a direct quote. This report said: "Communist labor brigades have appeared and are multiplying all Soviet Republics in various industrial centers, in factories, transport, construction and on the farms."

THESE BRIGADES use youngsters as well as women. They have been taken out of their schools and homes to beef up the labor force and keep production at what will be a marginal living level, at best. They are shoved into cracks on the industrial front as a general throws makeshift military divisions into a line badly hit by the enemy. This report says so in Russia's Aesopian language:

"Leading brigades and workshop personnel who have decided to work in the Communist manner direct their effort primarily towards raising labor productivity in every way. They propose to gain a considerable rise in labor productivity by means of automation, complex mechanization, by acquiring knowledge of modern machinery and technology."

"All local party, local governments, trade unions and Komsomol (youth) organizations and leaders in the economy as called upon to support and lead the creative initiative of the participants in the nationwide competition in honor of the 21st Party Congress."

So, Serov may simply be out salvaging nails instead of pulling them out of his prisoners' hands.

Rest Home Operator Files $1,807 Suit

LISBON — A civil suit to collect $1,807.98 for the care of welfare patients was filed in Common Pleas Court Monday by Pearl Gibbs Wheatley, operator of the Gibbs Rest Home in Wellsville, against the county commissioners, Galen Greenisen, Walter Hunston and Max Gard, and Irvin J. Vorn-dran, county auditor.

Mrs. Wheatley claims the Columbiana County Welfare Department placed three patients in the home but failed to pay for their care.

Man Seeks $16,000 For Crash Injuries

LISBON — A suit for $16,000 for personal injuries and damages allegedly stemming from an auto accident was filed in Common Pleas Court Monday by James E. Reeves of Youngstown.

George Fennell, 53 E. Martin St., East Palestine, was named the defendant.

Mr. Reeves claims in his petition that on Dec. 21, 1956 at the intersection of Market St. and Pyatt St. in East Palestine, his car was struck by a bus owned by the defendant, causing him to suffer serious injuries.

At a recent meeting in the church, the following new committee members were appointed: Auditing, Mrs. Warren Brown, Mrs. Sam Lockhart and Mrs. Arthur Borton; good deed, Mrs. Ethel Hill, Mrs. William Green and Mrs. Margaret Hannay.

Mrs. Joseph Emelo read a Christmas poem, and the group sang carols. Mrs. Lew Sheen presided at the business session, and Mrs. William Potts presented the devotional theme, "Nativity," and read a poem, "Smiles."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Howard Sunderman and her committee.

BETA THETA CHAPTER of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International will hold its Christmas social Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Elmer Stamp of RD 1, Hanover.

Each member is reminded to bring a copy of her favorite recipe for an exchange.

At a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Ward of RD 3, Salem, Mrs. Howard Bailey, president, led carol singing for the devotion.

Nine members answered roll call by telling what they wanted for Christmas. The philanthropic project for this season will be to send Christmas gifts to a needy family.

Mrs. Franklin Humphrey and Mrs. Don Humphrey showed pictures of the latest fashions in dresses and coats. A discussion on the styles and on ways to improve one's wardrobe with colorful accessories was held.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Ward with the assistance of Mrs. Bailey.

THE ESTHER BUTLER Missionary Circle will meet Thursday at 12:30 p.m. for a covered dinner at the First Friends Church.

Members are reminded to bring candy and cookies to fill gift boxes.

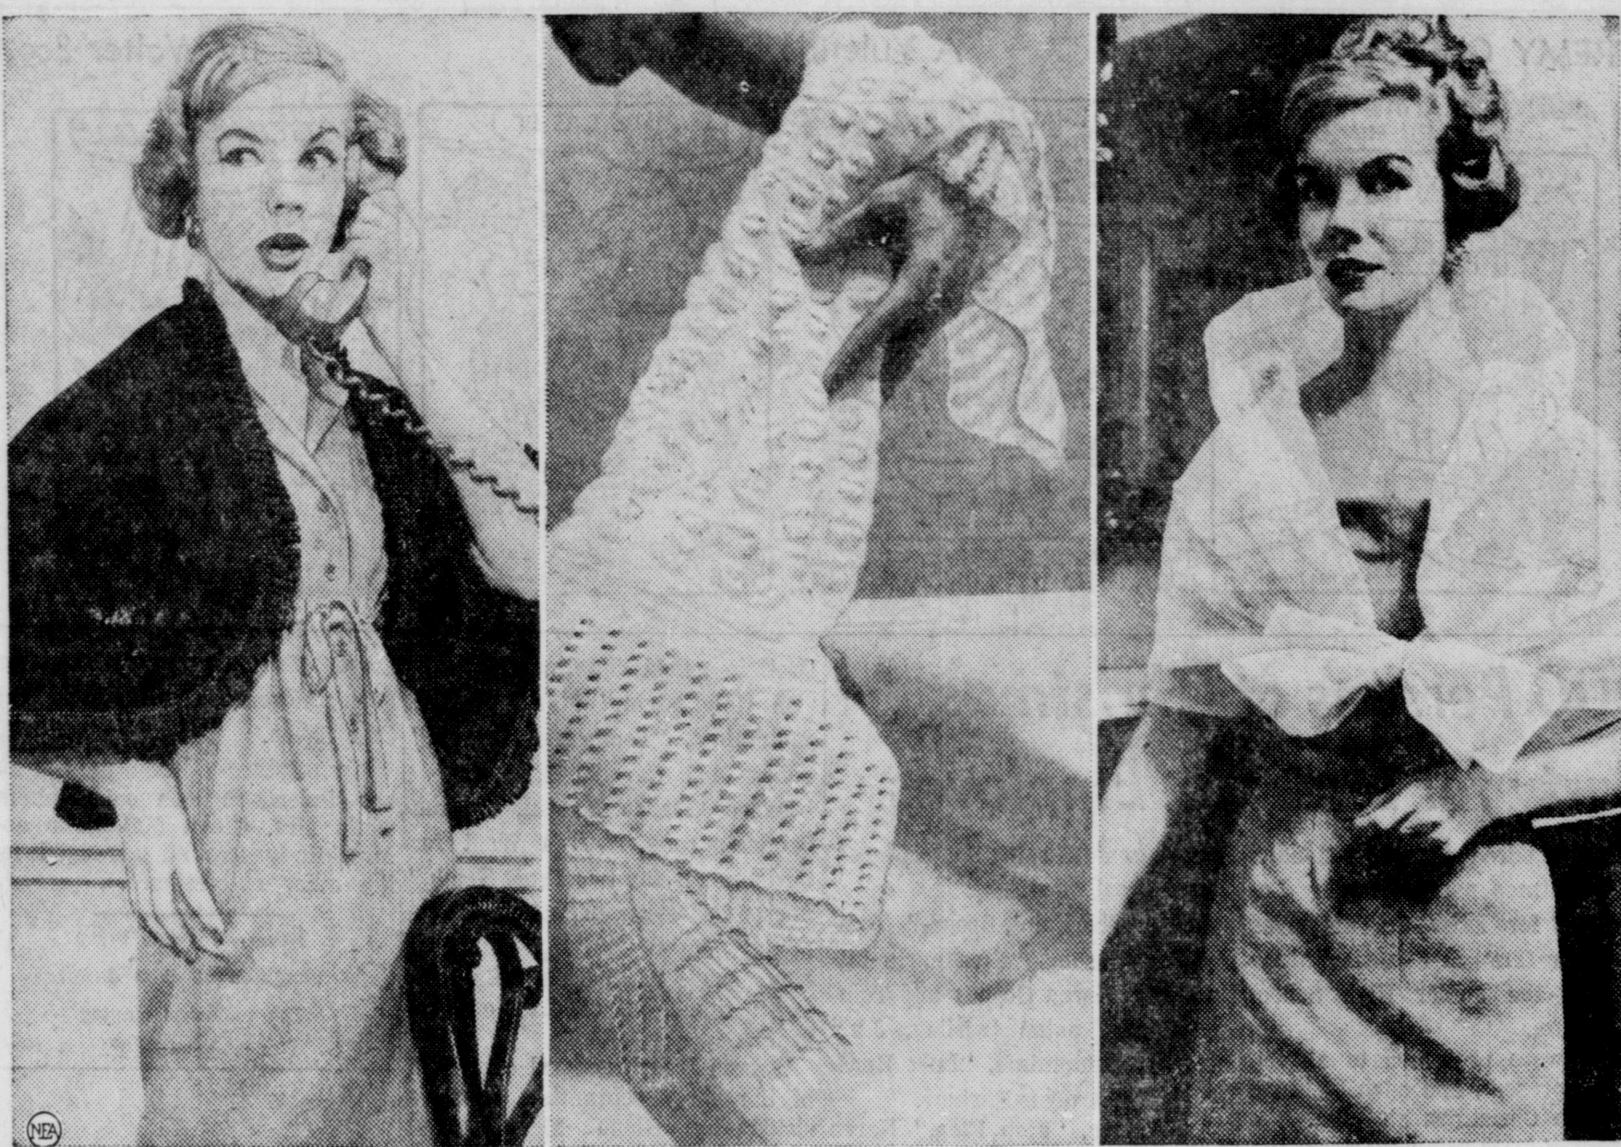

THREE CHRISTMAS poems were read by Mrs. Matt Melitschka Thursday when she entertained the Past Noble Grands Association in her Sharp Ave. home.

Members sang Christmas hymns with Mrs. Charles Snelvel playing organ accompaniment.

A gift of money was sent by the group to the Odd Fellows Home in New Springfield.

THE STOLE IS BACK IN FAVOR AS AN ACCESSORY. But this time, it's shaped rather than being a long, flat piece of fabric. It fits snugly on the shoulders and stays on. In addition, it's washable. Shaped black and jersey stole (left) is wonderful for warding off drafts, takes nicely to gentle hand-laundering. Popcorn stitch knit stole (center) has fleecy look, is made of orlon yarn that washes snowy white again and again. The giant fichu in silk (right) provides flattery for the slim look of the sheath or Empire line. This one can be washed by hand with a pinch of starch in the last rinse water to restore that fresh, crisp look. It comes in lovely jewel tones that can turn a plain dress into a beauty.

Council Acts Tonight On Salary Increases

COLUMBIANA — Action on a wage raise for village employees will be the major item of business at tonight's meeting of village council, set for 7:30 p.m. at town hall.

At its session Dec. 2, council heard a report from the finance committee on possibilities and consequences of a general wage increase, then instructed the village solicitor to prepare a pay raise ordinance for its meeting tonight — with the amount of increase left blank. Figures for the size of the boost will be filled in this evening.

Council may act on an ordinance aimed at solving three local parking problems in the downtown area. The ordinance will permit

Marks' Landing Grabs Sixth In Row; Herrons, Goshen Win

The standings of the teams in the Monday Division of the Salem City Basketball League remained status quo today following four games staged Monday night in the Memorial Building.

Marks' Landing stayed unbeaten by winning their sixth in a row rallying in the final frame to down a stubborn Fireside Inn quintet 56-44.

Owens' Service remained tied in second place with a thrilling 65-64 win over Foreman's Window Cleaning, while Herron Transfer kept abreast of Owens with a smashing 74-75 win over Millville Friends.

Morehead State Nips Ohio U. by 75-73

By The Associated Press

One Ohio college basketball winning streak has come to an end, but another rolls merrily on.

After winning three straight, the Bobcats of Ohio University couldn't quite make it against Morehead (Ky.) State College Monday night, falling 75-73 on the winners' court.

But in eastern Ohio the College of Steubenville easily doubled its opponent's output to win its seventh game of the season, 30th in a row and 56th on the home court. The victim was the College of Wheeling, W. Va., and the score was 95-46.

In the other two games Monday night involving Ohio colleges, Youngstown romped to a 108-81 victory over Culver-Stockton of Canton, Mo., and Findlay pulled away in the last 10 minutes for a 90-77 win over John Carroll of Cleveland. Both games were played on the victors' home floors.

A tight zone defense bottled up the Ohio U. attack that had been averaging 101 points per game, and Morehead protected a lead attained after the first 15 minutes to upend the Bobcats. Thornton Hill of Morehead and Bunk Adams of Ohio U. both had 23 points.

Every man on the 11-member Steubenville varsity scored in the runaway win over Wheeling. Bill Rahuba scored the most 22.

Culver - Stockton scored often but Youngstown scored more often and led all the way in the high-scoring session. Mickey Yagovich of the Penguins poured in 28 points closely followed by the Missouri team's Ken Schuler with 26.

At Findlay the host Oilers broke the eighth tie of the game—58 all—and pulled away in the last 10 minutes. Fred Polinski of Findlay had scored 35 points to take honors. Jim Keim of John Carroll came up with 21.

Royals Acquire Rollins From Warriors in Trade

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati's pro basketball Royals hope to spruce up their playmaking with addition of Phil Rollins, acquired from Philadelphia in a trade.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

Acting on the basis of what transpired in the wins over Struthers and Columbiana, the scoring attack of the Salem Quakers can't do anything but improve and become more potent and diversified as the season progresses.

To date, the point production has been taken up by the Quakers' "small men." Salem has tallied 133 points so far with the first five accounting for 115 of this total.

Of this 115, the "small men" have tallied 90 and the "big men" 25. This is an average of 15.0 to 6.25.

WOODY DEITCH, with his hook shooting and jump shots from around the key, have netted 36 points so far to rank him the No. 1 scorer. Right behind is the club's Mr. Contagious named Dan Krichbaum. He has 33 tallies with most of his field goals coming at a time when it has meant the most. When Krichbaum scores, everyone else seems to.

Salem trailed Struthers 6-3 midway in the opening quarter when he hit three straight fielders to put Salem ahead to stay. The club rallied behind the 5-9 junior to stay on top.

IN THE Clipper contest Salem trailed 5-1 until Krichbaum scored three straight to make it 5-4. Shortly afterwards he tallied to make it 10-7 for Salem and started them on a string of 13 straight points which put them far enough ahead to contain any Columbiana rallies.

Each time in the game that the Clippers came within seven or eight points, it was "Danny" who came through to pad the lead for Salem once more.

THIS IS NOT to hex the fine jump shooter in that as Krichbaum goes, so goes the Quakers, but he just seems to come through when a field goal is needed the most.

Salem's third diminutive scorer is Dave Hunter who has 21 tallies and as such is tied with Lou Slaby.

In Deitch, Krichbaum and Hunter the Quakers have a potent scoring trip from outside.

What has hurt them so far in the two wins has been somewhat of an ineffective scoring effort inside by Slaby and Clyde Marks.

It's apparent that these two players are a few games away from their peak and that the aftermath of a football season hasn't worn off.

Marks has tallied but four points in two games. It is obvious, therefore, to see that when Slaby, and especially Marks, "get their eye" from in close, Salem will be a potent scoring machine from any where on the floor and not just from the outside.

SALEM HAS SHOT 41 and 47 per cent, respectively, but the 68

Kansas State Loses to BYU

Kentucky Rolls by Maryland by 58-56

By The Associated Press

Kansas State, much to its chagrin, found out you can't win 'em all." But undefeated Kentucky breathed a sigh of relief today after surviving a close call.

Kansas State lost its first Monday night, 77-68 to Brigham Young at Provo, Utah.

Second-ranked Kentucky beat upstart Maryland 58-56 in overtime at Lexington. It was Kentucky's sixth straight victory.

The K-State Wildcats played most of the game without their 6-3 stalwart, Bob Boozer. He twice wrenched his left knee and was used only about 10 minutes, scoring eight points.

Kentucky had to win the hard way after trailing by three points with three seconds to play in regulation time. Benny Coffman drove in for a three-point play and sent the game into overtime.

Adolph Rupp's Cats tallied four points on a basket by Johnny Cox and Dick Parsons' pair of free throws and then staved off the Terps, whose record is 1-3.

Eighth-ranked Mississippi State was the only other member of the top 10 to see action Monday night. Bailey Howell produced 38 points as the Maroons romped over Arkansas State 98-71 for their sixth straight triumph.

Elsewhere, the Big Ten Conference beat three nonleague foes. Illinois built a 16-1 lead and coasted to a 68-46 victory over Iowa State, Wisconsin led all the way in downing Missouri 68-60 and Purdue broke loose in the second half to turn back College of the Pacific 78-62 as Lean Wilson netted 26.

Seattle, No. 16 was the only other ranked team to play. The Chiefs, who seemingly have not missed Elgin Baylor in the early going, beat Portland State 85-36 for their fifth success in a row.

Duke won its first in four outings with a 68-61 conquest of South Carolina. Sophomore Bill Shinn scored 32 points and paced Davidson to a 98-71 lacing of Washington & Lee. Nebraska bowled over Texas Tech 54-46 for its fourth victory at home. Marquette outclassed Drake 79-63 for its fifth victory in six starts. LSU hit consistently from the free throw line to humble Texas 52-47 and Rice handed Tulane its first setback in five games 60-51.

Orioles Acquire Klaus In Deal With Boston

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles roster listed 13 infielders today with the acquisition of veteran Billy Klaus from the Boston Red Sox.

Klaus, the fourth infielder obtained by the Orioles since the 1958 season ended, came to Baltimore in an even-up swap for Bird outfielder Jim Busby. Boston General Manager Joe Cronin and the Orioles front office, who made a joint announcement of the swap, said no cash was involved.

Klaus, who turned 30 seven days ago, batted .159 while appearing in 61 games, mostly as a pinch-hitter, for the Red Sox last season.

Busby, the Orioles' regular centerfielder much of the season, batted .237 in 112 games. He is 32.

Sunday Win Would Be 'Sweet' Finish to '58 Browns' Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns were crushed—many of them in tears—after Sunday's 13-10 loss in New York, Co a c h Paul Brown admits. But, he adds, that will make a victory next Sunday all the sweeter.

"It's tough to have to go through that wringer all over again," Brown told the Cleveland Touchdown Club Monday. "But they can make it better for themselves by winning this one and then the one with the Colts. That would be the big bonanza."

The balding Brown is not a man to spend much time looking back with regret to this club's pair of losses to the Giants by margins of four and three points. What looking backward is done the rest of this week will be for the purpose of learning facts to win with.

"We'll wind up as tight as we can and take another pass at it," Brown said. "We have as good a chance to do it as the other team. They have a good football team, but so do we. I'm not making any apologies for Sunday. Everyone went all out, but some weird things happened."

Sunday's game will be the third meeting of the Giants and Browns in seven weeks.

"We're getting to be like the fighters who used to tour the tank towns, battling each other every week or so until each one knew every move of the other," Brown said.

Only Few Days Left to Save on Taxes

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

Store advertising proclaims we have only so many more days to shop till Christmas.

Too bad the Internal Revenue Service doesn't start a similar campaign. They might do well to broadcast only so many days left to review your 1958 income with a view to tax savings.

You can remain well within the law, yet benefit tax-wise, if you will think about the following:

Did you earn more or less this year than you expect to earn in 1959?

If you feel you may earn more next year, grab for added dollars now. Try to collect from your creditors — and what professional man or merchant doesn't have at least a few of these? Push hard for extra business if you are a builder, an appliance dealer, selling on commission.

Postpone payments such as medical and repair bills on property you may be renting to someone, also contributions to charity. Build toward larger deductions next year.

If you are less certain of higher earnings in 1959, do the reverse and give thought to three additional areas that may be helpful in reducing 1958 taxable income. These are:

DEDUCTIONS. Buy any medical aid you can and pay for it before the yearend. However, before you rush out on a medical spree check the cost and what you've already paid for medical care this year. If you are under 65 you can count only those medical expenses which total more than 3 per cent of your income. If your cash position permits, do any or all of the following: prepay some of the interest on outstanding debts, pay next year's real estate tax, up your charitable contributions.

EXEMPTIONS. As a family head you are entitled to exemptions. Perhaps you are paying almost half the support of an aged parent, a student son. If you up that support to 50 per cent, you can claim that individual as a dependent, collect a $600 deduction.

GIFTS. If you are in a fairly high tax bracket, a third helpful facet is gift giving. You can give as much as $3,000 in any one year to each of as many persons as you wish — $6,000 to each every year, if your wife agrees. However, if you make these gifts to your children and if these gifts are income-producing, like dividends from stocks, interest from bonds, consult an expert or you might be shifting the tax burden. Cleverly done, it is possible to split family income and reduce the tax burden for all.

Regardless of whether you expect to earn more or less in 1959, if you own securities or property, study the tax consequences of sales and purchases. If you already have losses, take capital gains to offset losses. If you have gains, seek losses. If your capital losses are larger than your capital gains, you can write off up to $1,000 against 1958 income. Any additional loss, at the rate of $1,000 a year, can cut your tax bite for the next five years.

Supreme Court Rules Court Can Set Aside NLRB Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today ruled that a U. S. District Court may set aside a National Labor Relations Board certification of a union as bargaining representative.

Justice Whitaker delivered the 7-2 decision. Justice Brennan wrote a dissenting opinion which Justice Frankfurter joined.

The high tribunal ruled on an NLRB appeal in a case affecting the Buffalo section, Westinghouse Engineers Assn.; Engineers and Scientists of America.

The board on June 21, 1956, certified the association as bargaining agent for a group of 233 professional employees and nine non-professional workers at the Chetowaga, N.Y., plant of the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

William Kyne, president of the Buffalo section, then sued in U.S. District Court here to have the certification set aside.

Kyne contended the board should have ordered a separate election to determine whether professional engineering employees desired to be included with the non-professional employees in the bargaining unit. The District Court agreed with Kyne and its decision was upheld by the U.S. Court of Appeals here.

Appealing to the high tribunal, the board contended Congress did not give a district court authority to review such board proceedings.

In other major actions, the court:

Unanimously upheld a ban by the Welfare Department against coloring oranges with a coal tar dye known as Red 32.

Negotiators Try To End Deadlock

Strike of Newspapers Still on in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators, deadlocked in disagreement, try again today to end the continuing shutdown of nine major New York daily newspapers.

Joseph F. Finnegan, top national mediator, meets again with the striking Newspaper Mail and Deliverers Union and the Publishers Assn. of New York City against a backdrop of pessimism and mounting losses on both sides.

The publishers association said after Monday's talks: "There was no effort on the part of the union to come back to the bargaining table as an alternative to shutting down the press of the world's greatest metropolitan area."

Asher Schwartz, attorney for the union, told newsmen: "The main stumbling block is the unwillingness of the publishers to discuss any of our proposals."

The 4,500-member delivermen's union struck the papers a week ago in a dispute over wages and working conditions. The walkout followed a rank-and-file rejection of a $7-a-week wage package offered that had been tentatively accepted by union negotiators.

Schwartz said the Deliverers' Union, which originally asked a $10 weekly wage package, is now willing to take the publishers' $7 package spread over two years—provided other contract benefits are included.

The basic wage for delivermen is now $103.82 a week.

The union has also modified its enforcement of a Tennessee law requiring racial segregation on street cars and buses. A three-judge district court at Memphis had dismissed the suit on grounds, among others, that plaintiff O. Z. Evers was not a regular or even occasional bus rider and had only boarded a bus to start litigation. The high court said that point was not significant.

Threw out unanimously the contempt of Congress conviction of Abram Flaxer who, as president of the now defunct United Public Workers of America, refused in 1951 to give a Senate Internal Security subcommittee a list of his union's members. Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) told Flaxer at a hearing Oct. 5, 1951, to produce the list within 10 days. Flaxer didn't, but the court said there was no effort on Oct. 15 to find out whether Flaxer's attitude was still defiant.

Ruled 8-1 that a Mississippi man was improperly given two 10-year sentences for wounding two federal alcohol tax agents if, as the defendant contended, he fired only one shot from a shotgun. The high court was interpreting a statute for the protection of federal officers. The question was whether there had been a single offense under this law or two offenses since two officers were wounded.

Triple Challenge

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Life holds a triple challenge these days for Kathryn Grant, the young wife of singer Bing Crosby.

It has given her three roles to play—all at the same time. She is a busy mother, a busy actress, and she is busy studying physiology because she wants to get a degree as a registered nurse.

Although she is a bit reluctant to discuss it, she is quite serious in her ambition to learn nursing. "A nurse learns discipline, and how to give service with her hands," she said. "This is a very satisfying feeling. I think it will be a big help to me in my domestic life."

The Texas-born beauty came here for public appearances preliminary to the release of her 17th film, which was shot in Spain.

Even wearing a black chemise dress and with her dark hair drawn back into "a severe chi-gaon"—her words—Kathryn still looks startlingly young. She still feels her youthful look is something of a burden in her professional career.

"This is the real handicap—the round face," she said. "My husband says I can't get away yet with playing a well-kept broad. Actually, I'm a hag of 25."

Her visit here left Kathryn—she doesn't like to be called Kathy—homesick for Crosby and their 4-month-old son, Harry Little Crosby Jr.

"We call him 'Tex' or 'Little Mouse' or 'Little Man,'" she said. "Bing calls him 'Little Drunk' because of the expression he gets after finishing his bottle. He just sits there contemplating his navel."

Miss Grant's marriage to the celebrated crooner was regarded as a real Cinderella romance by movie fans, but she doesn't like to break the privacy of her present home life.

"So many people ask me what Bing is really like," she said. "Actually Bing is exactly the kind of person most people think he is."

"He is a heavenly father. He sings incessantly around the house, and he loves to sing to the baby."

"Church means a great deal to him. It does to both of us."

In meeting the problems of her triple life—as wife, actress and student nurse—Kathryn says she likes to remember two sayings of her own mother:

"Do the best you can."

"You can do anything you have to."

Then she added: "Happiness is an elusive thing, but I feel I am a woman fulfilled."
